Hey, I'm in the office if you want to call me, it's OK and I'm flexible, but we should let the others know that there won't be a presentation. Or maybe he can present the table? Up to you.

Subject Tomorrow's EMBM meeting - no presentation

I just spoke to Ed Garvey - I would like tomorrow's meeting to be a discussion based on the assumptions table that he sent us. I would prefer that Ed not make a presentation to start the meeting, because that'll just take time away from the discussion. I understand that you asked him to make a presentation to start - could we talk about that if you have a moment today?

I know you're not working, so if I don't hear from you, that's OK - but I've told Ed not to do a presentation, so he is not preparing one. He will have slides available to illustrate his points, if he needs to.
